PROFILE

Versatile and dedicated professional with a rich background in freelancing across multiple domains, now working in the shipping department of a Canadian factory. As a junior full-stack developer with a strong emphasis on front-end development, I have collaborated with international clients during my freelancing career in Morocco. I am also skilled in logo and stationery design, as well as creating ads for small e-commerce businesses and companies. Eager to leverage technical skills and creative expertise in a dynamic and growth-oriented environment.
